Perfect timing and location!

It's mothers day sunday (as a reminder for everyone, the only reason I am actually replying here)

But my mom lives close by so it's convenient for me :)

Well, we thought of you when we set up the casting...

Joking!

I am letting my wife do whatever she wants that day which allows me to do the casting call that night. "HAPY MOTHER'S DAY!!!!"

Hi, are you just having the casting call then, or are you casting/shooting at the same time?

I would like to try out for a part, as I am in the age range.

Also, do you have the script so I could look it over?

Thanks, Peggy

PS. I realize these aren't head shots, but am going to have some done on Saturday.

I would also like to look over the script and audition...
When will filming be?

If you want to see more of what I look like, please check out my Myspace

I'm pretty sure I've asked already, but I can't remember the answer so I'll ask again: Do we need to prepare a monologue for the audition or is it a cold read? Cheers!

It is a cold read. No need for you to bring a prepared piece. Thanks!

Thanks to everyone who auditioned last night!

We will be making decisions shortly and will email the cast list and post here as well when the final decisions have been made.

Some of the choices were very tough and you all did a great job!B)

Thank you for your auditions with VerticalBlu for the short film 'The Dinner Date'.

We are happy to announce the cast that has been chosen for the following roles in this film:

Father: Rick Cooper
Mother: Teri Frost
Girl: Deena Trudy
Guy: Kareem McCroy

It was a tough decision-making process, but we are excited about our choices for the actors for these roles.

Again, thank you for those who auditioned for this project. We look forward to working with you in the future on upcoming projects.
